

Ideal for businesses and teams who want to:

- ✓ Improve communications
- ✓ Collaborate more
- ✓ Increase productivity

DISC Profiling and Workshops

Want to know more about the different personality and behavioural styles in your team and how you can use these differences to improve internal communications and client relationships? Our DISC profiling and workshops will help you to:

- Know yourself and your team members better
- Understand how to best motivate team members
- Improve communications and gain greater collaboration within the team
- Increase recruitment effectiveness
- Enhance the effectiveness of performance reviews and personal development plans

“Maggie facilitated an insightful, informative and engaging DISC workshop for our team. We’re a happier, more engaged team as a result of this workshop.”

PM, Torchbox

What's involved?

DISC profiling works for individual managers as part of a development programme. We also offer interactive 3 hour workshops for teams, with objectives agreed beforehand.

The sessions are engaging, practical and results focused. They are delivered online via Zoom or face to face – depending on your location and preference.

For more information and prices please call 07734 080073.